

dimension 70 mq
project 2011
completed 2012

exlab venezia

description

detailed proposal, final proposal and building site supervision of the transformation in a residential unit of an artisan laboratory

client

private

The recovery of a portion of a work space in the historic center of Venice for residential use is an opportunity to redistribute the existing interior spaces by introducing new functions in maintaining some historical traces that characterize the property that become elements of spatial resonance within minimal environments.

