vet surgery venezia

description

detailed proposal, final proposal and building site supervision transformation old store in a vet surgery

client

private

The work was carried out by minimizing the number of necessary adjustments improving the most complete reversibility and the least burden on the readability of the organism original building. A system of fixed furniture distributes the space by creating different areas and allowing the creation of a veterinary clinic in a small space whose perception is modified with an hidden system of RGB led.

A sort of "lantern" glass lights centrally space and includes the toilet required for the professional making it perceptible as stand alone.
